

GEMSTONES AND METALS: Answers

1. Extremely hard, 1980's TV presenter. Diamond
2. One time peeler. Copper
3. Found in London travel card. Pearl
4. It's in the can. Tin
5. A bold alloy. Brass
6. Heading for La Bolivian Capital? Topaz
7. Banned fishing weight. Lead
8. Dorothy went to this city. Emerald
9. A pressing age. Iron
10. Metal named after the village in Scotland where it was found in 1790. Strontium
11. Tragically discovered by the Curies. Radium
12. A liquid equivalent to Hermes. Mercury
13. At home in a Mediterranean fruit. Olivine
14. It's blue, water, sea? Aquamarine
15. It could be pearly, wicket or five barred. Agate
16. There is no good in a metallic pen. Platinum
17. A diagnostic meal? Barium
18. Galvanise yourself to get this one. Zinc
19. Amusing, me being used in antacid milk. Magnesium
20. Metal whose compounds produce blue glass and ceramics. Cobalt
21. It's in the smoke by Pullman. Ruby
22. Sounds like there are four in a gallon. Quartz
23. All that glisters is not this. Gold
24. Orb of a stripy cat. Tiger Eye
25. Fruits now called Starburst. Opal
26. Former Liberal leader. Steel
27. Peter gets west for an alloy. Pewter
28. I ate them mixed up for a blood stone. Hematite
29. Sounds like a Warren Mitchell character. Garnet

30. Bauxite is the main ore of this light metal.	Aluminium
31. Naval vessel involved in the Yangtze incident.	Amethyst
32. The Lone Ranger's horse.	Silver
33. The Peril in Topper.	Beryl
34. Tripod with energy can get you a green stone.	Peridot
35. Large antelope loses its right and gets north.	Onyx
36. Car bumpers used to be plated with this.	Chromium
37. Sunday night at the London venue.	Palladium
38. A Great Barrier gemstone?	Coral
39. Wilkie Collins novel.	Moonstone
40. An American coin.	Nickel
41. Bone strengthening metal found in milk.	Calcium
42. It's salts are used to treat depression.	Lithium
43. Welsh Taekwando Olympic gold medallist.	Jade
44. An engine, a petrol, or a gladiator.	Jet
45. It is not red but it is still stop.	Amber
46. Combined with chlorine, its intake should be controlled.	Sodium
47. Singularly the queen of the fairies?	Titanium
48. A brummie vegetable comedian.	Jasper